U.S. COURTS OF APPEALS

During the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980, a total of 23,181 appeals were filed in the Courts of Appeals, an increase of 9.7 percent over the 21,127 cases filed in 1979. Only the Tenth Circuit experienced a decline in the number of appeals filed, from 1,361 in 1979 to 1,289 in 1980. Total case dispositions in the Courts of Appeals increased significantly during this period, rising 17.3 percent to 21,932 appeals. The largest advance in case terminations was shown by the Ninth Circuit, where dispositions increased by 30.9 percent. The Tenth, First, and Sixth Circuits also reflected substantial increases of 29.5 percent, 28.4 percent, and 27.0 percent, respectively. Despite the sizable increase in terminations, the pending appellate caseload grew to 21,027 cases, a rise of 6.3 percent over 1979. Only the Second and Fourth Circuits reduced their pending caseload, declining 5.2 percent and 4.5 percent, respectively. The most significant increase in pending caseload was in the Eighth Circuit, which experienced a 29.6 percent rise in pending appeals.

Twelve Months Ended September 30	Filings	Terminations	Pending September 30

Most of the increase in case filings can be attributed to a 16.7 percent rise in civil appeals over the previous year. Of these, the largest growth involved private civil appeals, up 20.5 percent. Civil appeals involving the U.S. rose a more modest 8.8 percent over 1979. Bankruptcy appeals, on the other hand, reflected a substantial decrease of 30.5 percent, dropping from 433 in 1979 to 301 in 1980. Criminal appeals continued to decline for the third consecutive year, down 5.7 percent. (See Table B-1 for additional data on the activity of the U.S. Courts of Appeals.)

The following table provides a comparison of appeals filed, by quarter, during each of the twelve month periods ended June 30, 1977-1980. The 6,248 cases filed during the period July through September 1980 was 0.3 percent lower than the number filed during the comparable period last year.

U.S. DISTRICT COURTS

CIVIL CASES

Summary of Workload

During the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980, there were 171,074 civil cases filed in the U.S. district courts, an increase of 6.9 percent over the 160,031 cases filed during the same period a year ago. The number of civil cases terminated increased 11.9 percent to 163,869 cases, compared to 146,389 in 1979. The pending civil caseload in the U.S. district courts continued to grow, rising 3.9 percent to an all time high of 190,440.

Civil Filings

The 171,074 civil cases filed during the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980, is the largest number of civil filings recorded during any comparable period. The increase of 6.9 percent continues a 20 year trend of steadily rising caseload. The rate of increase, however, is considerably below the 13.8 percent rise experienced last year. More than 80 percent of the rise in civil filings can be attributed to an increase in contract actions from 40,834 in 1979 to 50,435 in 1980. Contract actions filed by the U.S. for recovery of overpayments and enforcement of judgments alone account for more than 40 percent of this increase.

Seventy-one districts experienced increases in filings in 1980. The most dramatic increases were in West Virginia, Northern (up 70.9 percent); California, Northern (up 44.2 percent); and Illinois, Southern (up 43.3 percent). The most significant declines in filings were experienced by Florida, Southern (down 22.1 percent) and Idaho (down 21.0 percent).

The following table provides a comparison of civil cases filed, by quarter, during each of the twelve month periods ended June 30, 1977-1980. The 45,467 cases filed during the period July through September 1980 was 5.5 percent higher than the number filed in the same period last year and represents the largest influx of civil cases into the district court during any comparable period.

Civil Terminations

Civil cases disposed of in the U.S. district courts during the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980 increased 11.9 percent to 163,869, the largest total ever for a twelve month period. Much of this rise in terminations can be attributed to the Omnibus Judgeship Act of 1978 which increased the number of district court judgeships from 399 to 516. Seventy-seven districts increased their level of termination activity. Five districts which had increases of more than 50 percent were Michigan, Western (78.0 percent); South Dakota (57.9 percent); California, Northern (54.8 percent); North Carolina, Eastern (54.0 percent) and Washington, Western (50.8 percent). The most significant declines in terminations occurred in Massachusetts (down 32.9 percent from a record high in 1979); Tennessee, Western (down 23.2 percent); and Alabama, Middle (down 21.2 percent).

Civil Pending Caseload

Because of the significant increase in termination activity, the pending caseload in the district courts increased only 3.9 percent compared to an 8.1 percent increase a year ago. The most significant increases were in state prisoner civil rights cases and private personal injury suits (other than marine and motor vehicle) which rose 17.4 percent and 16.7 percent, respectively. Twenty-seven districts were able to reduce their pending caseload during the period. The most significant reductions were in Puerto Rico (down 16.2 percent); North Dakota (down 14.2 percent) and North Carolina, Middle (down 10.1 percent). The largest percentage increases in pending cases were experienced by five district courts: Alabama, Middle (39.0 percent); West Virginia, Northern (36.8 percent); Louisiana, Middle (33.6 percent); Vermont (32.7 percent) and Guam (30.2 percent).

Summary of Workload

During the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980, criminal case filings and terminations continued the downward trend from last year. Cases filed during this period decreased 5.8 percent, from 31,196 to 29,387. Cases terminated dropped 10.9 percent from 32,088 in 1979 to 28,606 in 1980. Pending cases, however, increased to 15,211, 5.4 percent over the 14,430 cases pending on September 30, 1979.

The accompanying table provides the number of case filings and terminations during the three month period, July 1 through September 30 for 1976 through 1980.

	1976	1977	1978	1979	1980	Percent Change 1980 over 1979

Although case filings during the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980 continued the downward trend from previous years, the figures for the three month period from July through September show a reversal of that trend. Compared to the same period from last year, filings are up nearly 7 percent from 7,277 to 7,769 cases.

Criminal Filings by Nature of Proceedings

The following table shows the method by which cases were commenced in the U.S. district courts during the years ended September 30, 1979 and 1980. Case filings by offense level[1] were as follows:

18,958 -	66.8 percent as felony cases
8,809 -	31.0 percent as misdemeanor cases
633 -	2.2 percent as petty offense cases

[1] Offense level classification

Felony offense - A criminal offense punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year (Title 18 U.S.C. Section 1).

Misdemeanor Offense - Any criminal offense punishable by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year without regard to the fine amount involved (Title 18 U.S.C. Section 3401).

Petty offense - A criminal offense punishable by imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine of not more than $500 or both (Title 18 U.S.C. Section 1 (3)).

Cases commenced by indictment comprise the largest segment of criminal cases filed. There was a 6.9 percent decrease from 17,740 during the twelve month period ended September 30, 1979 to 16,513 during the same period in 1980.

For the first time in more than three years the pending criminal caseload has increased. On September 30, 1979, 14,430 cases were pending on the dockets compared to the 15,211 on September 30, 1980, an increase of 5.4 percent. The accompanying table shows that changes in the pending caseload ranged from 82.7 percent decrease in Canal Zone to 145.5 percent increase in Montana. Thirty-three of the 95 districts showed a decrease in the number of cases pending on their dockets. Of the remaining 62 districts, two showed no change and 60 showed increases with 13 districts exceeding 35.0 percent. These 13 districts are:

FEDERAL PROBATION SYSTEM

Activity in the Probation System

The Federal Probation System received 30,870 persons for supervision in new or reinstated cases during the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980, excluding inter-district transfers. This was a decrease of 1,793 or 5.5 percent from the number received during the same period last year. Persons removed to inactive status or terminated from supervision declined by 183 (0.5 percent) to 33,957. With fewer persons received and with removals remaining nearly constant, the number of persons actively supervised at the close of the period fell to 63,361, which was 1,777 or 2.7 percent below the total under supervision at the close of last year. (See the technical note and Table E-1 in the appendix.)

Persons Received by Type of Supervision

The number of persons received for all types of supervision this year was down 5.5 percent to 30,870 as a result of the 9.2 percent fewer persons received for supervision from the district courts. Persons received on court-imposed probation terms, probation terms imposed by U.S. magistrates, and terms resulting from pretrial diversion agreements fell by 10.7 percent, 4.7 percent, and 10.3 percent respectively.

The number of persons received from Federal institutions during the year increased slightly from 12,201 to 12,293. A decrease of 629 or 20.2 percent in mandatory releasees received was offset by an increase of 693 or 10.1 percent in parolees received. Military parolees received for supervision and persons received on special parole terms continued recent moderate trends, with 177 more military parolees received and 149 fewer special parolees received this year than during last year.

Districts reporting increases of 50 or more persons received for supervision were California, Central (up 88, 5.9 percent), Maryland (up 67, 7.0 percent), Florida, Southern (up 58, 9.7 percent), South Dakota (up 55, 47 percent), Oregon (up 54, 21.1 percent), and Tennessee, Middle (up 51, 24.3 percent).

Technical Note

Since some records pertaining to a specific reporting period are received after that period has closed, the number of persons reported under supervision on a particular date changes in ensuing reports. Therefore, Appendix Table E-1 shows a different figure for persons under supervision at the beginning of this year than was reported at the end of last year. Received and removal figures for this year balance with the adjusted beginning figure to produce this year's ending figure. Comparisons in the text, however, are based on the ending figure reported last year.

Persons Removed from Supervision

The total number of persons removed from supervision during the past year, excluding transfers, was 33,957 compared to 34,150 during the year before. The number removed from special parole terms, however, rose to 2,553 during the year. This was 822 or 47.5 percent more than the 1,731 removed during the previous year. A significant factor in this large increase was the ruling by the Supreme Court (Bifulco v. United States, No. 79-5010, U.S. June 16, 1980). This decision ruled that a special parole term cannot be imposed under Title 21 U.S.C. 846 relating to conspiracy to commit certain drug offenses. As a result of this decision, more than 500 persons on special parole at that time were removed from supervision during the months of July and August.

Persons Under Supervision

The number of persons under active supervision on September 30, 1980 was 63,361, down 1,777 or 2.7 percent from the number reported on the same date last year. Persons under supervision from the district courts dropped by 2,204 or 4.9 percent. The decrease of 2,092 in court probationers accounted for most of this overall reduction. Institutional releasees under supervision increased by 427, or 2.2 percent. The increases of 1,109 (8.2 percent) in parolees and 135 (61.6 percent) in military parolees were partially eliminated by decreases of 359 (18.8 percent) in mandatory releasees and 458 (10.9 percent) in persons serving special parole terms. As a result of the Bifulco decision, more than 500 special parolees were removed from the caseload, turning a modest increase in persons under supervision in this category into a substantial decline.

Nearly two-thirds of all the districts experienced declines in their caseloads compared to last year. The numerical reduction was 100 or more in nine districts: Michigan, Eastern; California, Northern, Eastern and Central; New York, Eastern; Massachusetts; Pennsylvania, Eastern; Kentucky, Western, and Georgia, Northern. Of the 32 districts with more persons under supervision at the end of this year, Texas, Southern and Illinois, Northern had the greatest increases of 175 and 123, respectively.

BANKRUPTCY

The twelve month period ended September 30, 1980 was a very significant period for bankruptcy activity in the United States courts. The Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-598, 92 STAT 2549, effective October 1, 1979), the most important change in almost 100 years, contributed to a tremendous increase in bankruptcy filings.

Summary of Workload

During the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980, there were 421,426 bankruptcy estates filed in the bankruptcy courts, an increase of 75.1 percent over the 240,654 estates filed during the same period last year. The number of bankruptcy estates terminated dropped 2.6 percent from 210,275 in 1979 to 204,817 in 1980. The termination figures include 133,286 estates filed prior to October 1, 1979 (hereinafter called Bankruptcy Law estates) and 71,531 estates filed on or after October 1, 1979 (hereinafter called Bankruptcy Code estates).

Because the number of bankruptcy filings greatly exceeded the number of terminations, the pending bankruptcy caseload increased to 493,095 estates as of September 30, 1980, a rise of 78.3 percent over a year ago. This pending caseload is comprised of 144,679 Bankruptcy Law estates and 348,416 Bankruptcy Code estates. The following tables compare the bankruptcy caseload during the twelve month periods ended September 30, 1979 and 1980.

Year Ended September 30	Beginning Pending	Filings	Terminations	Pending September 30
1979	246,107	240,654	210,275	276,486
1980	276,486	421,426	204,817	493,095
Percent Change	12.3	75.1	-2.6	78.3

The impact of the Bankruptcy Reform Act is clearly reflected in the Table 5 which provides a comparison of bankruptcy estates filed, by district, during each of the twelve month periods ended September 30, 1979 and 1980 (the first full year under the Reform Act).

As reflected in the table, 18 districts experienced increases of more than 100 percent in the number of estates filed. The largest increases were in Rhode Island (194.7 percent); Pennsylvania, Western (154.0 percent); New York, Eastern (153.9 percent) and Puerto Rico (150.0 percent). The smallest increases were in Alabama, Southern; Florida, Northern and Louisiana, Middle, which experienced increases of 6.5 percent, 14.8 percent and 19.0 percent, respectively.

A summary of bankruptcy estates commenced, by quarter, for statistical years 1975 through 1980 is provided below. The impact of the Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 can easily be seen in the significant increase in the last four quarters. Additional data on the bankruptcy caseload during the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980 is provided in Appendix Tables F-1, F-2A, F-2B, F-3A, and F-3B.

Adversary Proceedings

In addition to the original bankruptcy cases filed in the U.S. Bankruptcy courts, adversary proceedings may arise out of any of these cases and as such, be filed with the Bankruptcy Court. During the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980, a total of 51,368 such cases were filed. The following table provides the number of adversary proceedings filed, by district, during the twelve month period ended September 30, 1980.

CIVIL

Summary of Caseload

During the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980, there were 165,290 civil cases filed in the U.S. district courts, an increase of 9.9 percent over the same period a year ago. This total represents the largest influx of civil cases into the district courts during any twelve month period. The number of civil cases terminated also increased significantly, rising 12.4 percent from 138,786 in 1979 to 156,060 in 1980. Despite the large increase in termination activity, the pending civil caseload in the district courts increased to 184,570 cases as of March 31, 1980. This represents an increase of 5.3 percent over the 175,340 cases pending last year. Table 3 provides a comparison, by district, of the number of civil cases filed, terminated, and pending during each of the twelve month periods ended March 31, 1979 and 1980.

Civil Filings - Nine Months

Table 4 provides a comparison of the civil caseload during the nine month periods July 1978 through March 1979 and July 1979 through March 1980.

Additional data on civil cases is provided in Appendix Tables C-1, C-2, C-3, and C-3A.

Civil Filings - Twelve Months

The 9.9 percent increase in filing activity during the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980 continued the long-term trend of increased civil filings. During this same period, a total of 74 districts experienced increases in filing activity, led by California, Southern (up 68.4 percent); Washington, Western (up 61.2 percent); South Dakota (up 51.1 percent); and California, Northern (up 50.6 percent). These substantial increases were the result of greater filing activity in U.S. land condemnation cases and U.S. contract actions. The largest declines in filing activity were experienced in the territorial courts. Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, and the Canal Zone experienced declines of 39.6 percent, 33.3 percent, and 26.0 percent, respectively. These declines were all the result of reductions in the amount of local jurisdiction cases being filed in the courts.

Civil Filings by Nature of Suit

The most substantial increase in filing activity was in U.S. contract actions, which increased from 11,013 cases during the twelve month period ended March 31, 1979 to 22,557 cases in 1980, a jump of 104.8 percent. This rise is largely the result of increased efforts by the U.S. government to recover defaulted student loans. It was particularly evident in Michigan, Eastern, where U.S. contract actions increased from 161 in 1979 to 1,874 in 1980, and in California, Northern where such filings increased from 324 to 1,323. Also, during the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980, there were no cases filed under the Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Act. This category has been steadily declining over the past few years.

Civil Terminations

Termination activity in the district courts increased significantly during the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980, rising 12.4 percent to 156,060 cases. Seventy-two districts experienced increases in the number of civil cases terminated, led by Florida, Southern (up 87.4 percent); Utah (up 78.7 percent); and the Canal Zone (up 71.0 percent). Of the 23 districts showing declines in termination activity, the greatest reductions were in West Virginia, Southern and the Virgin Islands, down 49.0 percent and 22.9 percent, respectively.

Civil Pending Caseload - Up 5.3 Percent

Despite a healthy increase in the disposition rate in the district courts, the number of pending civil cases continued to rise steadily. As of March 31, 1980, there were 184,570 civil cases pending in the district courts, an increase of 5.3 percent over the number pending a year ago. Despite the overall increase in pending cases, 21 districts were able to reduce their pending caseload over the twelve month period. Excluding the Canal Zone, where the court is being phased out, the most significant reductions were made in Massachusetts (down 20.4 percent) and Arkansas, Eastern (down 15.3 percent). In Massachusetts, the overall reduction was primarily the result of a decline in the number of I.C.C. cases pending, which dropped from 7,691 in 1979 to 5,256 in 1980. The decline in Arkansas, Eastern was largely the result of a reduction in the number of pending private civil rights cases. The most significant increase in pending caseload was in California, Southern, which experienced a 65.5 percent rise in pending cases. This was the result of a rise in pending U.S. land condemnation cases, which increased from 14 in 1979 to 492 in 1980.

CRIMINAL

Criminal Filings Decrease 14 Percent

During the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980, criminal cases filed in the U.S. District courts dropped to 28,458 or 14 percent below the 33,100 cases filed last year.

There were 21,050 filings during the nine month period from July 1, 1979 through March 31, 1980. This is 14.8 percent fewer than the 24,718 filings of the same period a year ago.

Criminal Filings by Major Offense

Exclusive of transfers, case filings this year dropped to 27,569 or 13.6 percent compared to 31,912 the previous period. Contributing to this national decline were decreases in filings for 11 of the 15 major offense groups shown in Appendix Table D-2. Prosecutions of liquor law violations dropped significantly with 61.9 percent fewer filings. Forgery and counterfeiting filings and burglary filings declined 29.5 percent and 24.6 percent respectively. Of the remaining groups which showed fewer cases filed, the decrease ranged from -22.1 percent in prosecutions for auto theft to -3.3 percent in immigration violation prosecutions.

Filings under "Federal Statutes" rose by 11.1 percent due in part to increased prosecutions for contempt up from 30 in 1979 to 49 this year, and increases in prosecutions for agricultural act violations which were up from 266 last year to 284 or 6.8 percent this year.

Additionally sex offense filings and homicide prosecutions showed rises of 6.5 percent and 4.3 percent, respectively. Robbery filings also increased 1.0 percent during this same period a year ago.

Criminal Filings by District (Exclusive of Transfers)

Though criminal filings decreased on the national level by 13.6 percent, a comparison of filings by district presents a mixed picture. Nineteen of the 95 districts had more case filings during the current year than in the previous year. Four districts showed increases of more than 40 percent in their case filings. They were Alaska (62.9%); Southern Mississippi (50.0%); Western Wisconsin (45.5%); and Colorado (40.9%).

Of the remaining districts, one experienced no change in filings compared to last year and 75 districts had decreases. More than half of these experienced declines of 20% or more in case filings.

U.S. Bankruptcy Courts

Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978

The Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-598, 92 STAT 2549 approved November 6, 1978), effective October 1, 1979, represents the first major revision of the bankruptcy laws since 1938. The following are the basic revisions initiated by the Reform Act:

1. Allows a husband and wife to file a single joint petition in liquidation cases instead of separate petitions;
2. Enacts a single reorganization chapter, Chapter 11, to replace Chapters VIII, X, XI, and XII of the former Act;
3. Enacts a totally revised Chapter 13 (in place of Chapter XIII), for the adjustment of debts of individuals which expands the number of persons eligible for relief, and enhances the relief available to the debtors;
4. Institutes a new appellate procedure that permits direct appeal to the United States Courts of Appeals; and
5. Creates new and more liberal Federal exemption provisions and options for the debtor.

Because of the significant changes implemented by the Reform Act, it is necessary to distinguish between those cases filed prior to the changes and those filed after. In this text and all related bankruptcy tables in this report, cases filed prior to October 1, 1979 are referred to as "Bankruptcy Law" cases and those filed on or after October 1, 1979 are referred to as "Bankruptcy Code" cases.

Summary of Workload

During the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980, there were 255,477 bankruptcy cases filed in the bankruptcy courts. This figure represents a significant increase of 18.1 percent over the same period a year ago. The total includes 130,650 Bankruptcy Law cases and 124,827 Bankruptcy Code cases.

This significant increase in bankruptcy activity is further amplified when viewed from the perspective of "estates" filed rather than "cases" filed. Prior to implementation of the Reform Act, a joint petition filed by a husband and wife was counted, for statistical purposes, as two cases—one for each estate. Thus, before the Reform Act, the number of estates was equivalent to the number of cases. Under the Reform Act, a joint petition filed by a husband and wife is counted as a single case. In order to determine the number of estates under the Reform Act, the number of joint petitions must be considered, with each joint petition counting as two estates. Of the 255,477 bankruptcy cases filed during the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980, joint petitions under the code accounted for 47,357 cases. Therefore, during the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980, a total of 302,834 estates were filed, an increase of 39.9 percent over the the 216,404 estates filed during the previous twelve month period.

Unlike the bankruptcy filing activity, the number of bankruptcy cases terminated dropped 7.1 percent from 208,336 in 1979 to 193,639 in 1980. The total number of cases terminated represents 187,442 Bankruptcy Law cases and 6,197 Bankruptcy Code cases. Because the number of bankruptcy filings greatly exceeded the number of terminations, the pending bankruptcy caseload increased to 311,368 cases as of March 31, 1980, a rise of 24.8 percent. This pending caseload of 311,368 cases is comprised of 192,738 Bankruptcy Law cases and 118,630 Bankruptcy Code cases. Table 5 compares the bankruptcy caseload during the twelve month periods ended March 31, 1979 and 1980.

Adversary Proceedings

In addition to the original bankruptcy cases filed in the U.S. bankruptcy courts, adversary proceedings may arise out of any of these cases and as such, be filed with the Bankruptcy court. During the six month period ended March 31, 1980, a total of 16,052 such cases were filed which arose out of Bankruptcy Code cases. Table 6 indicates the number of adversary proceedings filed in Bankruptcy Code cases during the two three month periods October through December 1979 and January through March 1980. The largest number of these cases were filed in California, Central and Colorado with 1,047 and 927 proceedings filed, respectively. More detailed information on bankruptcy activity is provided in Appendix Tables F1, F1BC, F2BC, and F3BC.

FEDERAL PROBATION SYSTEM

Persons Under the Supervision of the Federal Probation System Drop 1.7 Percent

The number of persons received for supervision during the twelve month period ended March 31, 1980 reached 39,416, while persons removed from supervision rose to 41,190. This resulted in 64,863 persons under supervision on March 31, 1980 or 1,147 fewer than the 66,010 recorded a year ago. (See Table 7.)

Table 7
Persons Under Supervision of the Federal Probation System

Type of Supervision	March 31		Change
	1979	1980	Number	Percent
Total	66,010	64,863	-1,147	-1.7
District Courts	46,975	44,096	-2,879	-6.1

Military Parole	214	262	48	22.4
Special Parole	3,985	4,308	323	8.1

Most of the decline was due to 6.1 percent fewer persons serving supervision terms imposed either directly by the district court, through pretrial diversion, or U.S. Magistrates. This decline in persons under supervision from the court was not offset by the increase of 9.1 percent in persons serving terms of supervision following incarceration in Federal institutions.

The greatest numerical increase was for those serving parole terms who were placed under supervision by the U.S. Parole Commission. Persons serving Special Parole supervision terms in connection with drug law related violations increased by 8.1 percent.

The continuing increase of parolees and special parolees under supervision is in contrast to a decrease in sentenced prisoners confined in institutions operated by the U.S. Bureau of Prisons. On March 31, 1980 the federal prisoner population numbered 22,448 or 10.4 percent fewer than 25,059 on the same day a year ago.

REPORT ON CASES UNDER SUBMISSION IN THE U.S. COURTS OF APPEALS AND CASES AND MOTIONS UNDER ADVISEMENT IN THE U.S. DISTRICT COURTS

This quarterly report summarizes the cases under submission in the United States courts of appeals more than three months as of March 31, 1980 and cases and motions held under advisement in the United States district courts more than 60 days as of March 31, 1980. Cases reported decided after the end of the quarter but before this report was completed, are not included in the report tabulations.

Cases Under Submission

As of March 31, 1980, there were 545 cases reported held under submission over 90 days in the courts of appeals, the Court of Claims and the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. Of this total, 349 (64.0 percent) were submitted more than three but less than six months, 77 (14.1 percent) for more than six but less than nine months; 63 (11.6 percent) for more than nine months but less than one year; and 56 (10.3 percent) cases for more than one year.

The Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals reported that there were no cases under submission more than three months as of March 31, 1980. The cases reported by the courts of appeals, the Court of Claims, and the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals were distributed as shown in Table 8.

Cases and Motions Under Advisement

Cases and motions held under advisement over 60 days by United States district judges increased 34.8 percent from 1,263 matters on March 31, 1979 to 1,703 matters on March 31, 1980. A total of 470 district judges, including 108 senior judges, reported for the quarter ending March 31, 1979. Of that total, 298 judges reported that no matters were held under advisement over 60 days, while 172 judges reported 1,263 matters were held under advisement over 60 days. Table 9 shows that 539 district judges, including 102 senior judges, reported on the status of matters before the court for the quarter ending March 31, 1980. There were 311 judges (57.7 percent) who reported that no matters were held under advisement more than 60 days. The number of active judges who did not report decreased from 25 in 1979 to 15 in 1980.

A total of 228 judges reported 681 cases and 1,022 motions held under advisement more than 60 days on March 31, 1980. There were 521 cases and 648 motions (68.6 percent) which were held under advisement more than 60 days but less than six months; 97 cases and 279 motions (22.1 percent) which were held more than six months but less than one year; and 63 cases and 95 motions (9.3 percent) held more than one year. The Seventh Circuit reported 600 matters, the largest number of cases and motions held under advisement over 60 days.

Table 10 provides the distribution by circuit of cases and motions held under advisement over 60 days in U.S. district courts on March 31, 1980.
